North Miami Beach, Fla – October 16, 2018: Rachel Sapoznik, Founder, CEO, & President of Sapoznik Insurance touted as one of EBA's 2018 Most Influential Women in Benefit Advising. Each year, EBA names an elite group of women from around the country to its annual list. This prestigious award recognizes female industry leaders for a variety of achievements, including finding savings for employer clients and strengthening an organization's bottom line. In a male-dominated industry, EBA's 2018 Most Influential Women in Benefit Advising stands out for both professional and personal reasons.

Rachel Sapoznik advises employers on how to grow their business organically by providing strategic guidance and collaborating with clients to design and administer employee benefits programs that boost employee morale, productivity, and contain costs. She is credited with finding substantial savings for clients and strengthening their organization's bottom line. Sapoznik is an expert on healthcare reform, a pioneer in corporate wellness and entrepreneurship. She is a published author and featured in national and local mediums as a thought leader, and is devoted to giving back to her community.

"It is an honor to be recognized as one of EBA's 2018 Most Influential Women in Benefit Advising," said Sapoznik. "After 31 years, I am proud that we have stayed true to our original vision of empowering employees to attain physical and financial well-being while containing costs. I made a promise that education will be at the heart of everything that we do at Sapoznik and I'm looking forward to the next 30 years of educating people on their benefits. I've seen time and again how understanding your benefits and taking a holistic approach can save lives."

Sapoznik stands out as a passionate voice and embodies the qualities that make an employee benefits advisor a vital resource and partner. She works tirelessly on behalf of her clients to guarantee they have the coverage they need, especially during the difficult times. Clients know they can count on her, along with the entire Sapoznik team.
